

We're here to help!

Our Family Support Program uses an empowerment model of support. We maintain a core belief that parents know their children best and, as experts, they are the most effective advocates for their children. We will help families to better understand their rights, and offer information, connections, and support.

- Please let families know that they may call us directly or with your help.
- With the family's permission, we can call them directly. Provide us with the family's name and phone number, and the best times to contact them, if possible.
- Interpreters are available for non-English speakers.

1-800-800-4005 | 1-802-876-5315
www.VermontFamilyNetwork.org or info@vtfn.org

We're here to help!

Our Family Support Program uses an empowerment model of support. We maintain a core belief that parents know their children best and, as experts, they are the most effective advocates for their children. We will help families to better understand their rights, and offer information, connections, and support.

- Please let families know that they may call us directly or with your help.
- With the family's permission, we can call them directly. Provide us with the family's name and phone number, and the best times to contact them, if possible.
- Interpreters are available for non-English speakers.

1-800-800-4005 | 1-802-876-5315
www.VermontFamilyNetwork.org or info@vtfn.org