Introductions

What do you like most about transition planning?

- The nature of student-centered services.
- When students maintain employment through their transition and beyond.
- When a young person advocates for themselves and finds their passion.
- Core team has assisted with generating resources for transition planning.

What do you find most challenging about transition planning?

- Covid has added barriers for career exploration.
- Despite attempts to be proactive the school year goes quickly!
- When adult team members and/or parents are “driving” the team instead of the student.
- When students live in rural areas with fewer options or when a student doesn’t qualify for adult services but would benefit from them

What do you want to get out of Core Team this year?

- Collaborative work with change makers in the educational system
- Build upon existing relationships and grow our team by utilizing individual talents
- Learning from each other
- Building relationships with community partners and creating opportunities for out of high school.
- Partner with other local and regional Transition Specialists to share strategies, with a purpose of better equipping students and families with important skills, resources, and knowledge for future success.
